

I Always Knew

*It's such a crazy situation, to go and get yourself in,
but no matter which way you turn, you'll be the one waiting for him.*

*You know it's funny how these things will turn
to bring about something for you.*

*And I'm feeling now what I always knew,
deep in my heart, was true.*

Off the rails no looking back. The sun will dawn another day and you'll be there, still standing, caught in the mists while I'm away.

*You know it's funny how these things will turn
to bring about something for you.*

*And I'm feeling now what I always knew,
deep in my heart, was true.*

*It's uncanny how these feelings come around.
They take you unawares and they turn you upside down.*

You've got to close doors behind you before ahead eventually a new one opens to show you a pathway to your destiny.

*You know it's funny how these things will turn
to bring about something for you.*

*And I'm feeling now what I always knew,
deep in my heart, was true.*
